RIPANS TABULES.

Mr. Bert M. Moses, the advertisement and business writer of 502 3d street, Brooklyn, relates that he recently had occasion to consult Dr. J. S. Carreau, a well-known physician of 18 West 21st street, New York city, for a stomach trouble which was pronounced a type of dyspepsia. "After consultation," writes Mr. Moses, "the doctor gave me a prescription, and I was somewhat surprised to note that the formula was nearly identical with that of Ripans Tabules, for which I had, on more than one occasion, prepared advertising matter. I had Dr. Carreau's prescription filled, and it proved satisfactory, giving quick relief. A week later, when I had taken all the medicine, I again called on the doctor and mentioned the similarity of his prescription and the proprietary remedy spoken of, showing him both the remedy itself and the formula. The doctor was at first somewhat inclined . to criticise what he called patent medicines, but appeared to be surprised when he noted to what extent his own prescription conformed to the formula I showed him. It was practically the same. After a short time devoted to noting the careful manner in which the proprietary medicine was prepared, he wound up by prescribing it for my case. Of course I had to pay him for telling me to do this, but it was worth the cost to have such high professional assurance that the advertised article was, in fact, the scientific formula that it purported to be. I might have taken the proprietary medicine in the beginning and saved the doctor's fee, but I think the confidence I have dings of Boston was the marriage of Miss Mary Stoddard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Stoddard of Boston, and Mr. George D. Yeomans of Buffalo, a son of Mr. Jas. D. Yeomans of Buffalo, a son of Mr. Jas. D. Yeomans of the interstate commerce commission. The marriage was solemnized at Trinity Church at 8 o'clock last Wednesday evening. The charcel was beautifully dressed with towering palms and ferns, with huge bunches of roses gracefully arranged in the foreground. The pews set aside for the relatives were decked with immense clusters of bridesmaid roses. In the large company present there were many friends of the groom from Buffalo, his home, and from other western and New England cities. The bride's attendants, seven in number, advanced from New England cities. The bride's attendants, seven in number, advanced from either side of the altar down the center alsie to meet the bride. The maid of honor, Miss Mary Churchyard of Buffalo, was in white silk muslin over white satin, with white satin ribbons and court train. Her bouquet was of white roses, tied with long flowing streamers of white silk ribbon. The bridesmaids were dressed alike in flowing streamers of white silk ribbon. The bridesmaids were dressed alike in white muslin, with pink ribbons. Their bougsets were of pink roses, and in their hair they wore clusters of pink rosebuds. They were Miss Nixon of Chicago, Miss Elake of Boston, Miss Lauriat of Brooklyn, Miss Churchyard of Buffalo, Miss Keyes of Attleboro' and Miss Brewster of Plymouth, all school friends of the bride, while the ushers, Mr. Stoddard of Boston, G. F. Keating and A. H. Hoyt of Buffalo, Ashbel Green, jr., W. H. Smith of New York, and S.Y. Osborn of New Haven, were college chums of the groom, who is a Yale man of '90. The best man was Mr. H. W. Lee of Buffalo. The bride's gown was of white satin, with court train. A diamond tiara, the gift of the groom, and a spray of orange blossoms held her vell. The point lace on her dress was that used on her mother's wedding gown. Her bouquet was of lilles of the valley. Mrs. Yeomans, mother of the groom, was gowned in hellotrope brocade, trimmed with duchesse lace and diamond ornaments. After the ceremony a large reception was held at the Hotel Vendome. Mr. and Mrs. Yeomans will reside in Buffalo, N. Y., and will be at home in December.
